

The service we recieve on xm radio is paid for and should not be governed by a few folks who seek to stifle a competitor by crying to the governing body. Competition is always good for the industry and the traffic and weather we get on xm is indeed helpful in our daily lives. We would like to see the fcc keep it's hands off and let the competition weed out the weak. The truely good will prevail if left alone. Thanks, yours truly, Kenny Smart.
